In his Testament, St. Francis shared how his conversion story begun with him ministering to the lepers outside the city wall of Assisi. FY/YA Commission - Kathleen Molaro, OFS, Heather Cherniack, OFS, Jean D'Onofrio, OFS, Dr. Janice Mary Novello, OFS, Br. Scott Slattum, OFM and Kathy Taormina, OFS

Delve into Scripture, our OFS documents and those of the Church and explore why Secular Franciscans are called to “foster communion” with our youth (Rule, Art. 24).

Why does our Church and the Secular Franciscan Order believe it is important to reach out to younger Catholics? What do our documents say? Should this challenge be a priority in our churches and fraternities?

C2 - Get Your Fraternity Ready for YouFra!

When a young person walks into your fraternity gathering, what steps do you need to take to make sure they are welcomed, inspired, and eager to return?

Young people seek authentic relationships and a community, a deepening of faith, and ways to work for justice. Is your fraternity ready to accompany our younger Catholics on their journey toward holiness? Do you know how to prepare for the possibility of establishing a YouFra?

F - Revitalizing our life as Franciscans: Ethical challenges & leadership

Fr. Martin Carbajo-Nunez, OFM

Fr. Martin will explore the possible ways of animating our life as Franciscans in a time marked by sociocultural change, social tensions and vocational crisis. It seems that a part of the Franciscans has their prophetic soul sickened, that they have lost the capacity of hoping and dreaming. However, Pope Francis reminds us that this is a time of hope and new prophecy. Therefore, they need the audacity and creativity of St Francis of Assisi to retake the core of their own charism and find the way of incarnating it today.

Father Martín, was born in Figueruela de Arriba (Zamora, Spain). He has a Doctorate degree in Moral Theology (Alfonsianum, Rome), a License degree in Germanic Philology (Santiago de Compostela Univ.), a Master in Social Communication (Gregorian Univ., Rome), and is a qualified computer technician. He currently teaches ethics and communication at three universities: two in Rome: Antonianum (PUA) and Alfonsianum (PUL); one in the USA: the FST, affiliated with the Univ. of San Diego (California). At the PUA, he has been Vice-Rector and Rector Magnificus ad interim for three years. His last book on ecology (Franciscan Roots of Laudato si'. Live wholly - mind, body, and spirit. We will explore movements that express who we are within.

Performed in many groups and led dance workshops blending these varied aspects of dance including Ballet, Modern, Jazz, and folk dancing. I discovered "Liturgical Dance" when a member of a dance group at a Charismatic Church where 'movement' was an expression of prayer. Later I was given the opportunity to travel with dance groups that took me literally in all areas of the US and overseas. We are a 'dancing people', we move in patterns throughout our lives. I find that no matter where you are, Dance speaks to the inner heart of those watching and in participating you will find your own expressions of faith through movement which is what this workshop is about. Z - The Loom of God

Thomas McNamara, OFS

To experience the history of the Secular Franciscans is to discover that we are not separate or isolated from our ever-changing world. Come share stories about what it means to be Franciscans and members of a global Church in the Third Millennium.

I was born in Chicago and raised in Phoenix, Arizona, I studied in Catholic schools and attended Seminary in the Diocese of Tucson. After high-school I studied fine art and psychology, with a master's degree in environmental therapy where I explored and wrote about the inseparable connection between human and planetary health.

I have worked in the Valley of the Sun all my life, living with my wife JoAnne of 42 years. We professed together in 2012. I recently retired to take up freelance writing and gardening. I currently serve as Archivist to St. Thomas More Region and am finishing my internship as a Spiritual Assistant. I also serve as national Historian for our Order and hope to complete a new volume of our history in time for Quinquennial 2021.
